About ASCE-OU

The OU student chapter of ASCE, which has approximately 50 members, provides students with an entry into the civil engineering community and many extracurricular learning opportunities. Monthly meetings include speakers from the industry to share their knowledge and experience with students. The concrete canoe team is a major player in the region, and has reached the nationals in two of the past three years. The steel bridge team offers hands-on experience in the design and construction of steel structures to exacting specifications. ASCE-OU also participates in several service projects around Norman.

To build interest in engineering among K-12 students throughout Oklahoma, ASCE-OU also sponsors a number of hands-on educational programs, including the Balsa Bridge Competition, West Point Bridge Design Contest and Sooner Elementary Engineering and Science Club.

See www.ou.edu/asce for more information on ASCE-OU events.

About the Scramble

This scramble, which brings together civil engineers of central Oklahoma, is a great opportunity to meet some of the next generation of civil engineers from OU. The tournament is open to anyone who wants to participate; alumni get a chance to benefit ASCE-OU and meet its members, and graduates of other schools get a chance to win on OU’s home turf. The Shotgun start will begin at 1 p.m. Range balls will be available. Afterward, a full barbecue dinner will be served, and awards and prizes given out.

Competitions will include closest to the pin and longest drive, as well as a hole-in-one opportunity that carries a $10,000 prize. Door prizes also will be awarded.

All proceeds will be used to support ASCE-OU competitions and service activities.

Bring your team and have a great day!

Eighteen holes of match or medal play will teach you more about your foe than will 18 years of dealing with him across a desk.
